

A statement of work, or SOW, is a document sent during the bidding process as part of an RFP to prospective partners that describes the general goals of the project and gives a high-level outline of the work required to complete the project.